Amended RCE Claim 1 (previously RCE New Claim 6).

An article of manufacture, a physical document in the form of a fraction of the title to (or equivalently, a fraction of a deed of trust to) the land and dwelling of individual single-family homes, acquired by a business entity for the purpose of protecting the individual single-family home's equity against loss upon eventual sale, created using the following equations identified in the Specification, wherein;

$$HPV$  (defined as HAVEN premium value) =  $$SP - $PP - CI\% * $PP$  where

$$SP$  = home sale price after ownership period

$$PP$  = home purchase price

$CI\%$  = compound appreciation of area real estate index =  $(1 + I\%)^T$  (after T years).

The HAVEN return of value ( $$HR$ ) equation can be written as follows:

$$HR = $HYP * T * F\%$  where

$$HYP$  = total yearly payments

T = years of payments

F% = fractional premium return rate (function of time and appreciation trend)

The factor F% determining the amount of premium return can take on several values;

For  $$HPV > 0$  (price appreciation above the average trend line), F% can be a function of several variables, is set by agreement of the buyer, but always ranges between 0 and 1. Usually F% would be = 0 in this case since the owner did better than average appreciation. Figure 4 area labeled "A" shows this case.

For  $$HPV = 0$ , then F% = 0 and  $$HR = 0$  (price appreciation was average).

1 of 18

( 2 of 5 )

For  $$HPV < 0$ , then  $F\%$  ranges linearly from 0, when appreciation was average, to 1 when there was no appreciation, and there is some premium return ( $$HR > 0$ ).

The final case is when the homeowner shows a loss on the sale of the home; that is, when  $($SP - $PP) < 0$ , then the return  $$HR = ($PP - $SP)$  which guarantees that the homeowner suffers no loss of principle on the sale. Another option is to collect the premium in a lump sum, but this usually will increase the mortgage value (if the owner can't come up with the extra money), upon which the homeowner is paying interest charges.
